Copyright Transfer Agreement

This document contains the terms and conditions for the transfer of copyright from rightsholders of intellectual property to another party.

1. Definitions

"Intellectual Property" shall mean any kind of intellectual property; this could be in any form including but not limited to both physical and digital inventions, illustrations, designs, documents, or other binary files.

"Author(s)" shall mean all present copyright holders prior to signing this document transferring copyright to another party.

"Beneficiary" shall mean the legal entity that will receive the copyright of the intellectual property held by the original copyright holders.

2. Copyright Transfer

I hereby grant and assign the entire copyright in the Intellectual Property entitled below ("Intellectual Property"), authorized by the Authors entitled below ("Authors") to the Beneficiary entitled below ("Beneficiary").

a) The copyright consists of all rights protected by the worldwide copyright laws, in all languages and forms of communication, including the right to publish, modify, redistribute, republish in another format or medium, even commercially.

b) In return, the Beneficiary will grant the non-exclusive right of republications of the Intellectual Property to the Authors including the right to publish the Intellectual Property to their own website(s) and social media, and reference or use parts of the Intellectual Property for future work.
